Re: Notice of Potential Contract Termination Due to Outstanding Balance

Dear Mr. Thomas Hartline

We are writing to formally notify you that your account with Clearwater Enterprises, L.L.C. currently carries an outstanding balance of $796,333.13 as of the date of this letter. Please note that this amount does not include usage charges for the months of June, July, August, and September 2025, which will be added to the total amount due once billing is completed.

In accordance with the terms of our agreement, full payment of your outstanding account balance must be received no later than October 15, 2025. Failure to fully liquidate the account, including all additional charges accrued through September 2025, will result in the termination of your contract effective November 1, 2025.

We strongly urge you to review your account and make the necessary arrangements to bring it current. If you wish to discuss your account or require clarification, please contact us directly at [REDACTED]

We value our relationship and hope to resolve this matter promptly. However, we must take appropriate action to protect our contractual and financial interests should the balance remain unpaid.

Sincerely,

Lisa Owens

RE: NOTICE OF CONTRACT TERMINATION DUE TO OUTSTANDING BALANCE

We are writing to formally notify you that your account with Petrol Energy, LLC currently carries an outstanding balance of $532,033.25 as of June 2025. Please note that this amount does not include usage charges for the month of July 2025, which will be added to the total amount due once billing is completed. Petrol Energy, LLC has been serving Navitas since 2016. We cannot continue to fund Navitas short pays.

In accordance with the terms of our agreement, full payment of your outstanding account balance must be received no later than December 2025. Failure to fully liquidate the account, including all additional charges accrued through December 2025, will result in the termination of your contract effective December 31, 2025.

We strongly urge you to review your account and make the necessary arrangements to bring it current. If you wish to discuss your account or require clarification, please contact me directly at [REDACTED].

Petrol values our business relationship and hope to resolve this matter promptly. However, we must take appropriate action to protect our contractual and financial interests should the balance remain unpaid.

Sincerely,

Heather Moore
