RE: Patricia Conner Pratt v. Louisville Gas and Electric Company Case No. 2004-00425

Dear Ms. O'Donnell:

On March 15, 2006, the Kentucky Public Service Commission ("Commission") held an informal conference to discuss all issues in the above-referenced proceeding. Although the parties agreed at the informal conference that the issues of which Ms. Pratt raised in her initial complaint and subsequent filings had been satisfied, Ms. Pratt raised for the first time additional incidents involving her account which occurred earlier this year. To resolve Ms. Pratt's concerns, at the request of Staff Counsel, LG&E filed additional information with the Commission by a letter dated March 28, 2006. Ms. Pratt has not responded to this letter, nor has she made any filings with the Commission since the informal conference in March.

Consequently, LG&E believes that Ms. Pratt's complaint has been satisfied in compliance with the Commission's regulations, and therefore, respectfully requests that her Complaint be dismissed and removed from the Commission's docket with prejudice.

LG&E's records indicate that Ms. Pratt's account is current through June 5, 2006. Please note, however, that Ms. Pratt has padlocked the gate to her yard which restricts LG&E's access to the meter for reading. Ordinarily this is not a problem so long as LG&E is either provided a key or the gate is left unlocked on meter reading dates. LG&E has not been provided a key, and on April 27, 2006, Ms. Pratt's regularly-scheduled read date, the gate was locked. As a result, LG&E was unable to read the meter and Ms. Pratt's bill for that month was estimated.

As you know, Commission regulation, 807 KAR 5:006, Section 14(c), provides that if "a customer refuses or neglects to provide reasonable access to the premises for installation, operation, meter reading, maintenance or removal of utility property, the utility may terminate or refuse service." Should access again be denied to Ms. Pratt's meter on the next meter reading date (which is scheduled for May 30, 2006), LG&E will give Ms. Pratt a ten (10) day written notice of termination pursuant to Section 13(5) of that regulation.

Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,
