for Approval of Retail Tariff Riders ) and Revised Tariffs; Approval of )

Amendment to Wholesale Agreement )

MOTION FOR LEAVE TO WITHDRAW

UNWIND RIDER-COMPOSITE FACTOR

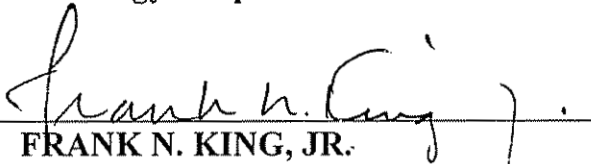

Now comes Kenergy Corp. (“Kenergy”), by counsel, and moves that it be granted leave to withdraw its request for approval of the Unwind Rider-Composite Factor (“URCF”) in this matter. In support of this motion Kenergy states that use of the URCF is now impractical and this rider is no longer needed. When the application was filed herein the plan was to use the Economic Reserve in such a manner that the net effect of the five (5) retail riders corresponding to Big Rivers’ five (5) wholesale riders would be zero for approximately five (5) years. The URCF was to be used to confirm the zero net effect over this five (5) year span of time, however now the plan is to have the zero net effect in place for only one year and to begin feathering a gradual increase thereafter.

Kenergy sees no need for use of the URCF for just this one year period of time and instead will show the five (5) corresponding retail riders on customer bills upon approval and closing of the Unwind transaction, and the implementation of its terms.

WHEREFORE Kenergy moves for leave to withdraw its request for approval of the URCF, for deletion of the URCF as a retail rider in this matter, and for all proper relief.
