Re: Case No. 2008-00495

Dear Mr. Derouen:

Enclosed please find for filing an original affidavit and a copy of each newspaper notice published in The Kentucky Enquirer once each week for three weeks beginning on September 1, 2009 and continuing on September 11, 2009 and September 17, 2009.

In compliance with the Commission's Order of August 21, 2009, this notice was first published on September 1, 2009 and clearly states the rate schedules that will be affected by the new proposal and opt-out provision.

Please date-stamp the extra two copies of this letter and return to me in the enclosed envelope.

Sincerely,

Dianne B. Kuhnell
Senior Paralegal

of the fair's pageants.

"The pageants are getting so big," Carmack said. "You like for it to be right for the people to enjoy it."

The fair plays a big role in the lives of many who live in southern Campbell County and is often called the "world's fair" by residents.

It is the oldest fair in Kentucky held on the original site, Carmack said. Hundreds of horses will be shown at the fair, which will run from Wednesday through Monday. People will come from all over Kentucky and from Illinois, Georgia, Tennessee and West Virginia to compete in the horse shows.

The 265 stables on the fairgrounds fill quickly, leaving about 30 people on a waiting list, Carmack said.

Residents volunteer many hours working on the fairgrounds and preparing for the festival. One man, Junior McCormick, began raising chickens and roosters on the fairgrounds in May for the fair's chicken rodeo, Carmack said.

"Chickens are hard to come by," Carmack said. "Not many farmers raise chickens anymore."

Pete Gosney spends most of August every year working on the fairgrounds. Gosney, 73, of Alexandria, fixes anything that needs repair on the fairgrounds throughout the year.

Gosney cherishes the fair, something he's attended since he was a boy.

"I was born and raised in Alexandria," Gosney said. "When I was young, school started the day after Labor Day. This was the big blow-out before school."

NOTICE

Please take notice that Duke Energy Kentucky has applied in Case No. 2008-00495 to the Kentucky Public Service Commission for approval to implement its Energy Efficiency rider rate under the Rider SAW (Save-A-Watt) for electric service and gas service for residential and non-residential customers. Rider SAW will be applicable to service rendered under provisions of electric Rates RS, DS, DT, EH, SP, GS-FL, DP and TT and gas Rate RS. Upon approval, the Rider SAW rate to be applied to residential customer bills is $0.001779/kWh for electric service and the rate to be applied to residential customer bills is $0.004828/ccf for gas service. The Rider SAW rate to be applied to non-residential customer bills is $0.000912/ kWh.

The rate contained in this notice is the rate proposed by Duke Energy Kentucky. However, the Public Service Commission may order a rate to be charged that differs from this proposed rate. Such action may result in a rate for consumers other than the rate in this notice. The year 1 unadjusted residential electric Rider SAW rate represents a 12% increase over the current adjusted Rider DSMR billing factor of $0.001596/kWh. When Rider SAW is adjusted to net out the effect of the adjusted Rider DSMR, the result will be a net 0.2% increase in total residential electric rates. The year 1 unadjusted non-residential Rider SAW billing factor represents an 8% increase over the current adjusted Rider DSMR rate of $0.000844/kWh. When Rider SAW is adjusted to net out the effect of the adjusted Rider DSMR, the result will be a net increase of 0.2% in total non-residential electric rates. The proposed year 1 residential gas Rider SAW billing factor is $0.004828/kWh, which represents a 65% decrease over the current adjusted Rider DSMR of $0.014127/ccf. When Rider SAW is adjusted to net out the effect of the adjusted Rider DSMR, the result is a modest 0.6% decrease in total residential gas rates.

Any corporation, association, body politic or person may by motion within thirty (30) days after publication or mailing of notice of the proposed rate changes request leave to intervene. The motion shall be submitted to the Public Service Commission, 211 Sower Boulevard, P.O. Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602, and shall set forth the grounds for the request including the status and interest of the party. Interveners may obtain copies of the application and testimony by contacting Duke Energy Kentucky through Ms. Dianne B. Kuhnell, Duke Energy, 2500 Atrium II, P.O. Box 960, Cincinnati, Ohio 45201-0960. A copy of the application is also available for public inspection at Duke Energy Kentucky's office at 1697 A Monmouth Street, Newport Shopping Center, Newport, Kentucky 41071.

track with 66,089 grandstand seats. It likely would expand to about 90,000 grandstand seats after it gets a commitment for a race, Simendinger said.

"This does bring people from outside the region," Simendinger said. "These people do stay in hotel rooms. They spend money in restaurants. They're here for a while.

"And as we build this up instead of just a Sprint Cup race on a Sunday then we have another (support) race on Saturday, we have another (support) race on Friday .... That's what ends up happening. These events grow in time."

SMI purchased Kentucky Speedway from Fort Mitchell developer Jerry Carroll and his business partners in December. The company owns seven other tracks that host Sprint Cup races and, according to Simendinger, has already spent about $18 million on renovations and infrastructure improvements at Kentucky Speedway.

SMI's desire to move a Sprint Cup race from one of its other venues to Kentucky Speedway so far has been stymied by an antitrust lawsuit pursued by the track's former owners against NASCAR and International Speedway Corp. The suit, which names SMI as a co-conspirator, is pending in the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati. A three-judge panel heard arguments July 30 but has not turned a decision.

"That has been an impediment in getting the race," mendinger said. "The good news is it appears that moving and there will be some sort of resolution hopefully one way or another relatively shortly."

NASCAR has said it would not consider running a Sprint Cup race at Kentucky Speedway until the lawsuit is solved.

When ordered to the ground, Davis told authorities he didn't have a weapon and pointed to a gun lying on the grass a few feet away.

Tuesday, two people who had known Davis for more than 20 years placed him at the scene of the Nov. 1 shooting with a .45-caliber handgun.

Witnesses testified Davis yelled at the pastor as he ran toward him, but said the two did not argue or fight before Davis shot the pastor in the chest.

Today, jurors will hear from a psychologist who will discuss Davis's mental state, as well as a doctor who is expected to testify about Cobb's injuries.
