re: Case No. 2009-00365
Filing Deficiencies

The filing deficiencies listed in your letter of September 22, 2009 are addressed as follows:

1. The cover letter to the Commission with the original filing was sent to the Attorney General along with enclosures.
2. The proposed changes are not a general rate change but rather a non-recurring charge. The District is in the process of upgrading its meters to radio reading equipment. This is not a general rate matter.
3. No existing customers will be affected by this change in that they all have meters installed. The potential customer not connected to the system will be affected by the change. The existing users should not be asked to subsidize the potential future customers.
4. Attached please find an income statement and balance sheet for a recent 12-month period.
5. Enclosed please find 6 copies of an undated tariff sheet to comply with KRS 278.180.

If you have any further questions, please let me know.

Yours truly,

Church Quarles
Chairman

Martin takes caught four passes for 26 yards. And Cunningham finished with one tackle.

"They were beat up pretty good," Meyer said.

Meyer said there could more players isolated this week as the Gators prepare to play at Kentucky. Meyer was most concerned with Demps, the team's starting running back, because he's early in the course of symptoms. Hernandez and Cunningham were getting over theirs, Meyer said.

The Gators hope flu shots will help prevent it from spreading any further.

"They're doing a great job of monitoring everybody's weight and making sure everybody's hydrating and making sure they're taking care of themselves," Nelson said. "That's the main emphasis."

Dusty Baker was thankful.
