RE: Case No. 2010-00026—BellSouth Telecommunications v. LifeConnex
Telecom

Dear Mr. DeRouen:

As directed by the Commission in its Order of August 20, 2010, LifeConnex submits the following response to the agency's Order.

For the last month, LifeConnex has suspended all solicitation and marketing efforts in Kentucky. In order to continue providing service to its existing Kentucky customer base, LifeConnex has arranged to obtain wholesale service from another local service provider. Those arrangements are now complete, and customers of LifeConnex continue to receive service from LifeConnex under the same terms and conditions. From the customer's perspective nothing has changed. Therefore, no Kentucky customers will be disconnected as a result of AT&T-KY's decision to terminate wholesale service to LifeConnex. The "emergency motion to prevent suspension of service" filed by LifeConnex is now moot.

As LifeConnex has previously stated, LifeConnex contends that the amounts owed to LifeConnex by AT&T for promotional credits and disputes exceed the amounts claimed by AT&T. As the Commission is aware, these issues will be addressed in the above-captioned docket, the purpose of which is to determine how much is owned by each carrier to the other. LifeConnex looks forward to that opportunity.

Sincerely yours,

Douglas F. Brent
