RE: Jackson Energy Cooperative Corporation – The Filing of Five Demand-Side Management (“DSM”) Tariffs

On October 31, 2011, Commission Staff (“Staff”) held a telephonic informal conference (“IC”) with Jackson Energy Cooperative Corporation (“Jackson Energy”). The purpose of the IC was to discuss Jackson Energy’s filing of five DSM tariffs. Jackson Energy requested the conference and Staff issued notice of the IC on October 28, 2011. A list of attendees is attached to this memorandum.

Jackson Energy stated that all of the programs, except for the Advanced Lighting program, have been in place since the late 1980 into the 1990s but that it did not have tariffs on file for those programs. Jackson Energy stated that the programs were strictly rebate programs,¹ that they did not affect the rates of customers, and that it was not aware that it needed to include these programs in its tariff. According to Jackson Energy, it made the filing after attending a meeting recently with Staff in which it was informed that “if money changes hands between the utility and its customers,” a tariff should be on file.

Staff asked about the Advance Lighting program and noted that the Commission had approved an Advanced Lighting tariff for Jackson Energy on September 30, 2011. Jackson Energy confirmed same and stated that the filing of the Advanced Lighting tariff in this case should be considered as moot.

Given that the remaining four programs have been in place for many years, Jackson Energy expressed concern that the Commission has suspended the programs in its September 22, 2011 Order in this matter. Staff informed Jackson Energy that it could file a request with the Commission that it be allowed to continue the programs until a final order is issued in this case.

¹ According to Jackson Energy, all of the rebate money comes from its wholesale supplier, East Kentucky Power Cooperative, Inc.

Staff inquired about Jackson Energy's motion for an extension of time to respond to its October 10, 2011 information request. Jackson Energy stated that it needed an additional 30 days from the October 24, 2011 original due date.² Staff stated that an order would be issued addressing this motion.

Finally, Staff requested that, when Jackson Energy files responses to its information request, it include a cost/benefit analysis for the four remaining DSM tariffs. There being nothing further to discuss, the meeting was adjourned.

Attachment: Sign-In Sheet

² Thirty days from the original due date is November 23, 2011.
