Eric,

Mike Galbraith and a representative from Airtec were at the plants yesterday to look at the potential testing ports and a suggestion was made to open the testing ports prior to the arrival of the testing crew. Many of the testing ports have not been accessed for many years and the port may be difficult to open and possibly plugged. I would like to hire Titian Contractors through the Maintenance Manager at each plant to open and clear each testing port so that we do not impede the collection of test data. Please forward the coding that should be used to track the expenses as a result of the Sargent and Lundy study.

Thanks

Tom
