Gentlemen:

There are several improvements to be made to keep from raising their rates. Some of those workers who do very little should step up & help keep the same rates. They never uncover my meter so I think they are getting readings automatically and perhaps from staying inside the vehicle.

There are many improvements to be made and those that do very little work should do their share.

Those rates do not need to be raised if the above methods are used and some workers should work harder.

Respectfully yours,

Paul Risner
