I know this will not matter to anyone there, but, the raise on my Social Security was $2.10 & now my electric bill is going to increase by approx 5.00 to 7.00 my other bills have also increased, what are we old people going to do? We can barely cover our bills now - Everything is increasing except Social Security - We grew up in a time when you could barely survive (like today) there was no way we could save for a pension most business during that time didn't offer a savings plan - ~~Just~~ This is just the way most of the people I know, on SS feel -
