I fee like this will probably seem trivial to you about UL - a Big Company, to even consider an individuals hardships.

As a senior citizen on a fixed income trying to pay my personal electric and saving energy; I'm charged a fee for those who supposedly can't pay as I struggle to pay my own electric bill.

Now this, UL wanting me to pay more when I've done my best to save on energy. My home is an older house, yet I'm ranked in the best range above the most efficient homes in my area, 43% less kWh. So why shouldn't I ask, "What good has it done?"

Sure, to some people what's $7.16 extra each month but for me, that's food for the week or my medicinal perscription. That amount is approximately $86.00 for the year, a lot of money for me.

I'm probably not one lone citizen who has considered to ask, "Why?" Oh well, who am I to question a Big Company policies of wants and desires. I'm not in favor of stifling progress, but enough is enough! More on my electric bills mean more on school tax - as well as other taxes. When will it all stop?

Thank you for considering those of us who cannot keep paying more - when more is not coming in!

Sincerely
Wanda Wiley
