As a resident of Boyd County, I am Barry Cohen, 801 Highland Ave, Ashland, KY with an email of [\[REDACTED\]](mailto:[REDACTED]) and phone of [REDACTED].

I offer this thought on the continuation of the commercial incentive programs that are part of the demand side discussion in the above case. I feel that the program is an excellent support of small businesses who are struggling to stay competitive and stay in business. This program is a small dollar support that keeps jobs in these small businesses. I am delighted that Kentucky Power is supportive of Braidy Industries (locating in Boyd and Greenup counties), RCL Chemical (locating in Floyd County), SilverLiner (locating in Pike County), Steel Ventures of West Virginia (locating in Greenup County), Thoroughbred Aviation (locating Martin County), Logan Corp. (locating in Magoffin County), and Wrightway Mix 13 Id. at 3-4. 9 Solutions (locating in Greenup County) who probably get larger incentives than the programs under discussion in this case. Old businesses are as important as these new ones.

I know that the DSM money ultimately has to be accounted for but personally it is a good investment to support energy efficiency and growth in the local economy.
