RE: Raising customer usage Jo Co Gas

This letter is to contest such a large raise in monthly fees at one time. No ordinary working class family can afford this. I myself have been putting in place plans to retire this month and such increases in living causes people like myself to maybe have to postpone that. I am a widow just received medicaid which I am thankful because I had no health insurance until that so I was covering my own cost till then.

There has to be other solutions such as a small increase at a time maybe might be ok. I myself will definitely go total electric if this happens. I heat and cook with gas and I love that type of heat but I had already been thinking about changing so this would make my decision easy. There just too much at one time for anyone.

Maybe add a little to the budget business part and see if that helps.
Just a suggestion to start with.
