

April 15, 21

Sir,

I downsized my home in order to incur smaller bills.

This increase will nullify this plan. I cannot afford this and everyon I know is afraid of this increase.

You must act responsibly and not allow this increase. This cannot be in the interest of Public Service.

Re: Case # 2020-00350

Any increase of fees by LSE should be denied.

The fee charged for service - when No energy is used is already too high. Retirees are put into difficult financial situations by the increasing costs of all utilities, taxes and necessary products.

Especially now, when so many are still trying to struggle through the virus pandemic, no increases should be allowed!

I am against ~~your~~ G&E's proposal to increase rates. It seems the increases happen too often. I'm all for paying for the AC & heat energy I use. I don't understand why the fees are so many and when totalled seem excessive compared with actual energy used. A once a year increase based on cost of living would seem fair. Our income raises on Social Security are once a year based on cost of living

PUBLIC SERVICE
COMMISSION

Dear Commissioners,

It appears that LG&E are planning for another increase of rates, I believe the 4th time in recent months, or recent years.

Now it is not the time, the pandemic is not yet finished and the economic recovery not yet achieved.

My husband and I are senior citizens, an increase in rates tightens our budget and diminishes our quality of life.

We have a house and a mortgage! We save as best we can for what is needed in this house.

We respectfully request the Commission to say "No" to these increases.

As well, I would like to advocate for all the poorer that may have to trade electricity for food.

Likewise I advocate for those people who installed solar panels and see the credit of 1:1 go down to a $ 0.03 kw/hour..

Our house is electric, no gas, and no solar panels. The trend of our era is to go to clean energy and let go of fossil fuels, no matter what the industry or the pundits will say.

I thank all commissioners for their time and attention,

Sincerely,

Julia DS Hanlon and John A Hanlon
