Subject: CASE NO. 2021-00346

I would like to protest the placing of transmission lines going across my cousin, Brent Allen's property in eastern Ky. The property has been in our family since the 1800's. My great grandfather first owned it, then my grandfather and now my cousin. I live in North Carolina and come to visit my cousin and the farm every year. It brings back so many precious memories for me because I lived in Prestonsburg and stayed with my grandparents often. (I am writing this now with tears running down my face). In fact I spent most of my summers there. My grandfather loved those hills and could name every tree growing there. Brent has done so much to improve this property. He has made 2 ponds that are filled with fish and both of these ponds would be affected by these lines. He has also built a beautiful home and swimming pool for all his family. The original barn is still standing which was built by our grandfather. He has kept his horse, Dollar, in that barn for close to 30 years and I don't think that Dollar will survive the construction.

I personally sold the land that the new high school was built on just above his house. The high school is vacant for 3 months out of the year. Why can't the transmission lines be placed there? The whole area is surrounded by wilderness. Why do the lines have to be placed on my cousin's property which will destroy it?
