Hello,

My name is Jackie Cobb and I live at [REDACTED] Cherokee Road in Louisville KY 40204. I'm submitting commentary for Case number 2023-00422.

Winter Storm Elliott is a great example of why LG&E KU needs to invest more time, energy, money and focus into subsidizing building weatherization via rebates and credits. Other utilities do this successfully and we can too! Let's design programs that will incentivize homeowners to weatherize their homes and business owners to do the same to commercial buildings - as well as install equipment that is much more efficient. That way, when extreme weather comes through, people's homes are weatherize to withstand the extreme weather and the equipment they use doesn't require so much energy.

Also, I would love to see LG&E KU introduce a plan to bury power lines. Much of the older city still have overhead lines that require lots of expensive work to repair with ice/trees/etc. Bury our lines! Especially on roads like Bardstown Road and Frankfort Avenue.

Best,
Jackie
