Dear Commissioners

Case #2024-00115 KY Power DSM Case

I want KY communities to have a robust economy. Investing in new power plants is risky. Technology is rapidly changing - especially in energy, and if we can save money by not building a new power plant, we can invest in new technologies that will be available to us in the coming decades. Demand - side management is a great way for customers to reduce energy demands, live comfortably, and the investments KY power initially makes will be returned over time. This leaves KY power and the communities it serves more flexible for future innovations and energy and able to serve our KY communities. Thank you for considering Demand-side options.

Sincerely,
Madeline Hemmerle
