I would like to file a comment in opposition of the proposed rate increase by the Crittenden Livingston Water District. It is my understanding that the members of the board have fallen into complete incompetence and utter disarray. Several board meetings have had to be cancelled due to lack of board members attending. Additionally, it is my understanding that the board members are not following guidelines in regard to the required training to be a board member. Simply put, board members are also not attending required training. Also, it seems as though proper preventative and regular maintenance has been woefully neglected.

It is my opinion that the water district needs to get their house in order before they take more money from their customers and waste it. If the people in charge of the district can't be bothered to be good stewards of funds now, what makes anyone think that sending them more money will suddenly cure all of their ills?
