Re: 2024-00037 Wood Duck Solar, Barren County, KY
Public Comment

To Whom It May Concern:

I would like to request information from the Siting Board in regards to other projects proposed by Geenex and/or the owner, Juergen Fehr. It appears Mr. Fehr has created numerous limited liability companies (LLC's) and has submitted applications to your agency under various LLC companies and various construction companies.

Specifically, Fehr is involved with the following projects in KY – regardless of how these projects are classified in the PSC database. I am attaching a document of proof from each project. The documents are buried within the LLC documents and attorney correspondence. It appears your database tracks the construction entity versus the owner/developer in this case Geenex/Fehr who is using an LLC. (see email below from Ms. Bridwell).

1. Hummingbird Solar, 2022-00272
2. Northern Bobwhite Solar, 2020-00208
3. Bluebird Solar, 2020-00085
4. Song Sparrow Solar, 2023-00256
5. Woodpecker Solar (withdrew before filing application, but did sell to EDF and later withdrew by Woodpecker attorneys)2020-00261

There may be other projects by Geenex/Fehr that I have been unable to identify and I ask for your help in searching the databases for any additional projects with which he or his affiliate, Georg Veil may be involved. By creating new LLCs, it not only protects assets, but it conceals identity and blurs any aspect of transparency.

In an email with Ms. Linda C. Bridwell, Executive Director, on Thursday, May 15, 2025 at 04:26:12 PM CDT, Bridwell, Linda C (PSC) <linda.bridwell@ky.gov> wrote:

“Woodpecker was formally withdrawn as a project, so I have no knowledge of that one other than EDF Renewables was listed as the solar company. Northern Bobwhite’s application was submitted by EDF Renewables. Hummingbird was submitted by Recurrent Energy. Bluebird was submitted by BayWa r.e. Song Sparrow was submitted by Clearway Energy. The only project that we have listed with Geenex in KY is the Wood Duck.”

The attached documents will prove to you that Mr. Fehr, the owner of Geenex was/is involved with each project listed. This apparently was missed by PSC staff and should be corrected.

Therefore, I believe the public has a right to know about the projects he has previously submitted to the PSC and his management of the projects until they were sold. I would like to request a report from Mr. Fehr, to be verified by the PSC based on filings, etc. so that the PSC and the public can evaluate his performance and financial abilities to complete all of the projects he has started. This company has refused to identify investors and country of origin to nonparticipating members of the community and media requests.

We also know that Mr. Fehr has various projects throughout the United States and it is impossible to know the timelines and financial commitments to each. It is also impossible to know the investors and the anticipation of government financing via IRB and PILOT instruments.

Barren County Judge-Executive Jamie Byrd has stated publicly that Barren County will not issue an IRB or a PILOT agreement. The financial analysis for Wood Duck specifically states they will pursue both. We need to know how this changes the financial structure of this deal and if it is feasible in relation to all other projects that are in the planning, development, construction or operation phases.

As to a data request to Mr. Fehr/Geenex and the PSC, I am requesting a summary of the projects listed previously, and any additional projects the PSC may locate that I was unable to find via the search engines.

Please provide by project name, county, and state

- Brief summary of the project
- Number of parcels
- Number of landowners under contract with the LLC
- Date NOI was submitted
- Date the application was submitted
- Date the application was approved
- Estimated cost of project
- Date all conditions/stipulations from the PSC were met
- Date of “Notice of Construction”
- Anticipated, or actual, date of completion (producing energy)
- Name of other entities involved
- Role of other entity
- Date the project was sold and/or transferred
- Who purchased the project?
- Was there a change in the construction company? If so, why and when.

- What phase was the project in when sold? Planning, construction, operation
- When was the project in operation i.e. producing energy?
- Did the LLC sell the land lease portfolio?
- Who is currently servicing the lease portfolio (making payments)?
- What is the annual total of the anticipated residual payments to the landowners?
- For each participant, please provide a spreadsheet with payment amounts for each year.
- When did payments started to landowners
- If payments are not being made to the landowners, please provide explanation and date of termination.
- Was and IRB granted? If so, for how much?
- Was a PILOT granted? If so, for how much?
- Define role of LLC with the IRB and PILOT financing?
- Did the LLC fulfill the landscaping requirements?
- Did the LLC complete the Decommissioning Plan and if so, what was the determined amount?
- Number of acres to be decommissioned
- Date of Decommissioning plan
- Is the LLC in good standing in the state of KY? Include certificate from the Secretary of State.
- When did the LLC dissolve?
- Provide a financial analysis for each project showing cost of the project, income, liabilities, expenses, residual payments to landowners, assets, etc.

Please provide the requested information on any project with which Geenex/Fehr is currently planning, managing, or administering in ANY state.

Additionally, please provide a complete financial portfolio detailing every project with Geenex/Fehr to detail the company's complete portfolio. Include assets in foreign countries. All residual payments should be noted by project LLC name and listed as a liability.

Another reason for this request is the fact that Geenex appears to be a developer of solar portfolios which they sell solar portfolios to other companies near the end of the construction period. See AI summary below. There are many articles on the web about this transaction, although I cannot find a list of the 20 projects. We do not know if Kentucky projects were included in this transaction or if Kentucky projects have been sold since this article was published. Therefore, I am seeking clarification for our community.

AI Overview (Source Google)

In 2020, EDF Renewables North America (EDFR) acquired a 4.5 GW solar development portfolio from Geenex Solar, LLC. The portfolio consisted of more than 20 solar projects in the PJM region, located in 13 US states and the District of Columbia. The deal was finalized in October 2020, with some projects expected to begin commercial operation in 2023.

AI responses may include mistakes.

We need a complete project portfolio; as well as, a complete financial portfolio of Mr. Fehr's obligations in Kentucky and elsewhere. It is known that he has projects under development and construction in other states. It is also known that he sells the portfolios, yet it is unknown as to the continuation of payments to participants/landowners, responses to concerns, project completion and management.

I have noticed that in a couple of these projects, they file a request with the PSC to seal the leases. Is this an act of concealment?

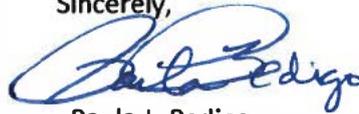

This information outlined above should be requested from Mr. Fehr to allow the siting board complete access to all projects in which he has a financial commitment. I would like to request this information be available to the public prior to the evidentiary hearing that will be requested.

This company has refused to answer questions at the "information meetings" and in emails about their investors or the country of origin for the funds. The air of arrogance from company officials is astounding as they readily stated the "project was approved" and they refused to answer any questions from the locals.

They have refused to answer questions from various media sources including the Barren County Progress, WKU, and of course, the National Park System which has prompted a letter of opposition.

Interesting enough, none of the projects listed above are listed on their website as under development or in construction; more secrecy and concealment. Please help to clarify the role of Juergen Fehr and Geenex in Kentucky and help provide a holistic assessment of his projects.

Sincerely,

Paula L. Pedigo
