Comments:

No win situation for the rate payers. Get charged over 100 million to prop up an old plant so we have electricity until 2040 if we're lucky or turn it down and be at the mercy of the market which will double our electricity rates if things keep going as is. AEP is looking at a nuclear plant but that would be lucky to be operational by 2040. Ky Power needs more generation in state, but I would hesitate to build another gas plant on the same transmission line that the one in Louisa uses.
