Comments:

This complaint is not regarding the recent rate hikes for electric power - Im sure the increasingly turbulent weather is creating some financial issues for them. However, why in the world would you allow them to LOWER the net metering credit??? You allowed them to go from ~7 cents per KWH to 3.9 cents and that is totally unacceptable. This was pure greed on the part of the utility and throws up an unfair deterrent to installing green residential energy. Please consider restoring net metering to at a minimum its prior level the next time the utilities come back with a rate hike request.
