RE: APPLICATION OF KENTUCKY UTILITIES COMPANY
CONCERNING THE NEED TO OBTAIN CERTIFICATES OF PUBLIC CONVENIENCE AND NECESSITY FOR THE
CONSTRUCTION OF TEMPORARY TRANSMISSION FACILITIES
IN HARDIN COUNTY, KENTUCKY
Case No. 2009-00325

Dear Mr. DeRouen:

In the December 22, 2009 Order approving the Application of Kentucky Utilities Company (“KU”) for the proposed construction of temporary transmission facilities in Hardin County, Kentucky, the Kentucky Public Service Commission (“Commission”) required KU to file the “as-built” drawings or maps of these lines within sixty (60) days of completion of the authorized construction. As noted in the Commission’s Order, KU’s intent was that, once the litigation delays were resolved, KU would “remove all temporary structures and lines, restore the affected properties, and [...] complete the MC-HC line as previously approved.” Because the litigation was finally resolved in KU’s favor prior to completion of both segments of the authorized temporary facilities, KU never built the Jent portion of the line, which would have been 1.78 miles long. KU did complete the CDH portion of the line, which was 1.45 miles long.

For your information, we are providing the original and four copies of this letter with a map, enclosed on CD, which shows the CDH line which was actually built, although more than half of that line has already been removed. KU expects to have the temporary segments of the line completely removed by the end of the first quarter, 2011, weather permitting.

Should you have any questions or need additional information, please feel free to contact me at your convenience.

Sincerely,

Rick E. Lovekamp
