

RULES AND REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE SUPPLY OF ELECTRIC SERVICE

Emergency Transmission Curtailment or Interruption of Service

N

In accordance with the provisions of Senate Bill 257 specifying changes to KAR 278.010 to 278.450, when the Company experiences an emergency or other event on its transmission facilities that necessitates a curtailment or interruption of service, the Company shall not curtail or interrupt retail electric service within its certified territory, except for customers who have agreed to receive interruptible service, until service has been interrupted to all other customers whose interruptions may relieve the emergency or other event.
