in the reverse order of the curtailments or interruptions insofar as it practicable.

Regardless of impairment of supply or other similar reasons, industrial and other customers under contracts providing for interruptible service and curtailment will be interrupted or curtailed for "Peak Shaving" purposes to avoid an increased Maximum Daily Demand in the Company's gas purchases, and for other reasons as justified or necessary in accordance with the provisions of the contract.

The Company will curtail or interrupt these customers on as equitable a basis as is practicable using its best judgment and taking into consideration its operations and related factors and the operations and gas utilization of the customers affected.

C 32. DISTRIBUTION MAIN EXTENSIONS:

The Company will extend without charge its existing distribution mains one hundred feet (100') for any one customer, provided the existing mains are of sufficient capacity to properly supply the additional customers and provided that the customer contracts to use gas on a continuous basis for one (1) year or more and, provided, the potential consumption and revenue will be of such amount and permanency as to warrant the capital expenditures involved and to make the investment economically feasible.

Whenever an extension exceeds one hundred feet (100') per customer, the Company may enter into an agreement with the customer or subscriber which will provide for such additional extension on a cost per foot basis, with the amount to be deposited by the customer or subscriber and for a proportionate and equitable refund in the event other customers are connected to the extension. Any further or lateral extension shall be treated as a new and separate extension. Refunds shall be made only after the customer has used gas service for a minimum continuous period of one (1) year. The Company reserves the right to determine the length of the extension and to specify the pipe size and location of the extension.

All extensions will be made dependent on the economic feasibility of the extension. Title to all extensions covered by agreements shall be and remain in the Company and in no case shall the amount of the refunds exceed the original deposit.

Nothing contained herein shall be construed as to prohibit the Company from making at its expense greater extensions to its distribution mains or the granting of more favorable terms than herein prescribed, should its judgment so dictate, provided like extensions are
