11. If, at the request or for the convenience of the owner or occupant of a property used for residential purposes, water is furnished through a single meter thereby serving more than one customer (i.e., an apartment building, a trailer court or similar multiple use), then the minimum charge stated in the rate schedule shall be multiplied by the number of individual customers served through said single meter and the product thereof shall be the minimum charge made for service to such property. The term "customer" as herein used is defined to mean a separate occupancy such as an apartment, a house trailer, one-half of a double house and the like.
