Optional, Commercial and Industrial Gas Rate (Cont'd)
Supersede "Optional, Commercial and Industrial Gas Rate" for minimum monthly bills of $801.88, $1,022.08, $1,202.08 and $1,502.08.
Issued by authority to an Order in Case No. 2458.
4. Determination of Base Load and Excess Gas: (Cont'd)
(a) The amount of gas delivered in the month.
(b) The number of days in that month multiplied by the average daily delivery during the preceding base load period consisting of June, July, August and September.
(c) Except that all gas delivered between the initiation of service for a new customer and the end of the immediately following last day of September shall be considered to be base load.
Example (1) Under (c): When a new connection is made after June 1st but prior to September 30th, then the average daily delivery of gas for the period served will be considered base load gas.
Example (2) Under (c): When a new connection is made after September 30th, then all gas used from that time through September 30th of the next year will be base load gas. Then, beginning with the next October delivery, the base load will be determined by the method shown in (a) or (b) hereof.
Excess of base load gas for any month is the remainder, if any, after deducting the base load from the total deliveries made under this rate schedule.
5. B. T. W. Content and Rate Adjustment Provisions:
The rates set forth herein are for the delivery of natural gas having an average unit heating value of one thousand (1,000) British Thermal Units per cubic foot of gas under standard conditions. Should the average unit total heating value of the gas delivered in any month be more or less than one thousand (1,000) British Thermal Units, determined as provided in Company's purchase contract from its supplier, said rates shall be increased or decreased as the case may be in proportion to the amount by which the average unit total heating value of such gas is greater or less than one thousand (1,000) British Thermal Units.

CLASSIFICATION OF SERVICE

Optional, Commercial and Industrial Gas Rate (Continued)

RATE PER UNIT

Supersede "Optional, Commercial and Industrial Gas Rate" for minimum monthly bills of $801.88, $1002.08, $1202.08 and $1502.08.

Issued by authority to an order in Case No. 2458.

Delayed Payment Charge:

Bills will be computed at both the net rate above and the gross rate. Gross rate is the Net Rate plus 2%. The net bill is payable within ten (10) days of date of the bill. After ten (10) days from date of bill, the Gross Rate and bill is payable.

Terms of Contract:

The term of a contract for service under this rate schedule shall be for not less than one (1) year, but the Company may require a term in excess of one (1) year, with the provision that at the end of the initial term it may be cancelled by either party by giving the other party thirty (30) days written notice of its election to cancel.

SPECIAL RULES:

1. Character of Service:

Gas supplied under this rate schedule shall be natural gas with a heat content of not less than 1,000 Btu per cubic foot, supplemented when necessary because of extremely cold weather or other supply emergency by mixing therewith manufactured gas with a heat content of not less than 1,000 Btu per cubic foot.

2. Pressure and Quantity:

The pressure and maximum quantity per hour to be delivered shall be agreed upon between the Company and Customer in each individual case on a contract basis.

3. Unit of Volume:

The unit of volume for the purpose of measurement shall be that volume of gas which would occupy a space of one cubic foot at a temperature of sixty degrees (60°) fahrenheit and at a pressure of (14.65) fourteen and sixty-five hundredths pounds per square inch absolute. The average absolute atmospheric (barometric) pressure shall be assumed to be (14.4) fourteen and four-tenths pounds per square inch irrespective of actual elevation or location of point of delivery.

Supersede "Optional, Commercial and Industrial Gas Rate" for minimum monthly bills of $801.88, $1002.08, $1202.08 and $1502.08.

Issued by authority to an order in Case No. 2458.

4. Determination of Base Load and Excess Gas:

The base load for any month is whichever of the following is the smallest:

- (a) The amount of gas delivered in the month.
- (b) The number of days in that month multiplied by the average daily delivery during the preceding base load period consisting of June, July, August and September.
- (c) Except that all gas delivered between the initiation of service for a new customer and the end of the immediately following last day of September shall be considered to be base load.

Example (1) Under (c): When a new connection is made after June 1st, but prior to September 30th, then the average daily delivery of gas for the period served will be considered base load gas.

Example (2) Under (c): When a new connection is made after September 30th, then all gas used from that time through September 30th of the next year will be base load gas. Then, beginning with the next October delivery, the base load will be determined by the method shown in (a) or (b) hereof.

Excess of base load gas for any month is the remainder, if any, after deducting the base load from the total deliveries made under this rate schedule.

5. B.T.U. Content and Rate Adjustment Provisions:

The rates set forth herein are for the delivery of natural gas having an average unit heating value of one thousand (1,000) British Thermal Units per cubic foot of gas under standard conditions. Should the average unit total heating value of the gas delivered in any month be more or less than one thousand (1,000) British Thermal Units, determined as provided in Company's purchase contract from its supplier,

Issued by authority to an order in Case No. 2458.

5. B.T.U. Content and Rate Adjustment Provisions: (Cont'd)

said rates shall be increased or decreased as the case may be in proportion to the amount by which the average unit total heating value of such gas is greater or less than one thousand (1,000) British Thermal Units.

6. Other Rate Adjustment Provision:

The rates set forth herein will be increased or decreased as the case may be in an amount directly related to the amount in cents per 100 cubic feet of any increase or decrease in cost of gas purchased by the Company from its supplier (Texas Gas Transmission Corporation) under the established price in the contract dated August 26, 1949.

7. Priority Classification:

The Company reserves the right to discontinue wholly or in part the supply of gas under this optional schedule for such period or periods as in the judgment of the Company may be necessary to enable it to supply the full gas requirements of its customers served under its general gas service rate and its optional general service gas rate. The Company shall not be liable for any damage whatsoever by reason of any such curtailment or discontinuance, or because of the length of advance notice given directing such curtailment or discontinuance.
