TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Addressee must apply, in writing, for authorization to access the Company's poles or conduits, using the Company's standard application. Prior to the Company's signing of the application, addressee shall send the Company all manufacturers' technical manuals and information, and construction standards and manuals regarding the equipment addressee proposes to use pursuant to the provisions contained herein and such other information as requested by the Company. As soon as reasonably practicable, but no less than sixty (60) days before the new addressee expects to submit an application in which the number of requests exceed zero and five-tenths (0.5) percent of the Company's poles in Kentucky, the new addressee shall provide written notice to the Company that the new addressee expects to submit a high volume request. (T)
2. Before any attachment is made by addressee, it shall submit the application to the Company including a written request for permission to install attachments on any pole or conduit of the Company, specifying the location of each pole or conduit in question, the character of its proposed attachments, the amount and location of space desired, and whether overloading will be required. The application shall be considered complete if it provides the Company with the information necessary to make an informed decision on the application. The Company will notify the addressee within ten (10) business days if the application is incomplete and will specify all reasons for finding it incomplete. If the Company does not respond within ten (10) business days after receipt of the application, or if the Company fails to state any reasons for finding the application incomplete, then the application shall be deemed complete. Within forty-five (45) days after receipt of such application, or after sixty (60) days for orders over five-tenths (0.5) percent of the Company's poles in Kentucky, or after ninety (90) days for orders over 1.5 percent of the Company's poles in Kentucky, the Company shall notify addressee in writing whether or not it is willing to permit the attachments and, if so, under what conditions. The Company will treat multiple requests from a single new addressee as one request if the requests are submitted within thirty (30) days of one another. If such permission is granted, addressee shall have the right to occupy the space allotted by the Company under the conditions specified in such permit and in accordance with the terms contained herein but Company shall not be required to set a pole for the sole use by addressee. The Company reserves the right to deny access to any pole, duct, conduit or right of way where there is insufficient capacity or for reasons of safety, reliability, and generally applicable engineering purposes. The Company has no obligation to permit attachment to any pole primarily used to support outdoor lighting or used for transmission service. 3. The attachee and any existing attacher on the affected poles may be present for any field inspection conducted as part of the Company's survey to determine if the attachment will be permitted. The affected attachers will be notified not less than five (5) business days of any field inspections. Such notice shall provide the date, time, and location of the inspection, and the name of the contractor, if any, performing the inspection. If attachee has conducted and provided a survey, the Company may notify affected attachers of the intent to use the survey conducted by attachee and provide a copy of the survey to the affected attachers within the time period established in the preseding paragraph. If the Company determines, at its sole discretion, that a survey must occur, attachee shall be responsible for any and all actual costs of such survey, even if attachee decides not to go forward with said attachments. 5. In any case where it is necessary for the Company to replace a pole because of the necessity of providing adequate space or strength to accommodate the attachments of attachee thereon, either at the request of attachee or to comply with the above codes and regulations, the attachee shall pay the Company the total cost of this replacement. Such cost shall be the total estimated cost of the new pole including material, labor, and applicable overheads, plus the cost of transferring existing electric facilities to the new pole, plus the cost of removal of the existing pole and any other incremental cost required to provide for the attachments of the attachee, including any applicable taxes the Company may be required to pay because of this change in plant, minus salvage value of any poles removed. Attachee shall also pay to the Company and other owners thereof the cost of removing all existing attachments from the existing pole and re-establishing the same or like attachments on the newly installed pole. 6. If attachee's proposed attachments can be accommodated on existing poles of the Company by rearranging facilities of the Company and of other attachees or permittees thereon, such rearrangement shall be made by the Company and such other attachees or permittees, and attachee shall on demand reimburse the Company and such other attachees or permittees for any expense incurred by them in transferring or rearranging such facilities. Any additional guying required by reason of the attachments of attachee shall be made by attachee at its expense, and to the satisfaction of the Company. (T)
7. A written itemized estimate of the make-ready charges pursuant to paragraphs 5 and 6 above, on a pole-by-pole basis if requested and reasonably calculable, will be provided to attachee within fourteen (14) days of the notification that the attachment will be permitted. 10. The Company may deviate from the time limits specified above if the new attacher failed to satisfy a condition in this tariff or in a special contract between the Company and new attacher. The Company may also deviate from the time limits specified above during performance of make-ready for good and sufficient cause that renders it infeasible for the Company to complete make-ready within the time limits. The new attacher and affected existing attachers shall be notified in writing of any deviation from the time limits, including the identity of affected poles and a detailed explanation of the reason for the deviation and a new completion date. The Company shall not deviate from the time limits established in this section for a period for longer than necessary to complete make-ready on the affected poles and shall resume make-ready without discrimination once the Company returns to routine operations.
11. An existing attacher may deviate from the time limits established in this section during performance of complex make-ready for reasons of safety or service interruption that renders it infeasible for the existing attacher to complete complex make-ready within the time limits established in this section. An existing attacher that so deviates shall immediately notify, in writing, the new attacher and other affected existing attachers and shall identify the affected poles and include a detailed explanation of the basis for the deviation and a new completion date, which shall not extend beyond sixty (60) days from the completion date provided in the notice described above (or up to 105 days in the case of larger orders). The existing attacher shall not deviate from the time limits established in this section for a period for longer than necessary to complete make-ready on the affected poles.
12. If the Company fails to complete a survey as established above, then a new attacher may conduct the survey by hiring a contractor approved by the Company to complete the survey. The new attacher shall allow the Company and any existing attachers to be present for any field inspection conducted as part of the survey and shall use commercially reasonable efforts to provide the Company and existing attachers with advance notice of not less than five (5) business days of the field inspection. The notice shall include the date and time of the survey, a description of the work involved, and the name of the contractor conducting the survey.
13. If make-ready is not complete by the applicable date established above or if the make-ready is simple, which means that it involves attachments in the communications space of a pole that could be rearranged without any reasonable expectation of a service outage or facility damage and does not require splicing of any existing communication attachment or relocation of an existing wireless attachment, then a new attacher may conduct the make-ready by hiring a contractor if the make-ready does not involve pole replacement. The new attacher shall allow the Company and any existing attachers to be present for any make-ready and shall use commercially reasonable efforts to provide the Company and existing attachers with advance notice of not less than seven (7) days of the impending make-ready. attacher shall notify the Company or existing attacher immediately if make-ready damages the Company's or exiting attacher's equipment, or causes an outage that is reasonable likely to interrupt the service of the Company or existing attacher. The new attacher shall notify the Company and existing attachers within fifteen (15) days after completion of the make-ready.

14. If a new attacher elects this process for simple make-ready, the new attacher shall notify the Company in writing in its attachment application and shall identify the simple make-ready that it will perform. It is the responsibility of the new attacher to ensure that its contractor determines if the make-ready requested in an attachment application is simple. Within fifteen (15) days (or within thirty (30) days in the case of larger orders), the Company or existing attacher may object to the designation by the new attacher's contractor that certain make-ready is simple. The objection shall be specific and in writing, including all relevant evidence and information supporting the objection, be made in good faith, and explain how the evidence and information relate to a determination that the make-ready is not simple. In which case, the make-ready shall be deemed complex.

The new attacher must use a contractor from this list. New and existing attachers may request the addition to the list of any contractor that meets the following criteria:

- The contractor has acknowledged that the contractor knows how to read and follow licensed-engineered pole designs for make-ready.
- The contractor has agreed to follow all local, state, and federal laws and regulations including the rules regarding Qualified and Competent Persons under the requirements of the Occupational and Safety Health Administration (OSHA) rules.
- The contractor has agreed to meet or exceed any uniformly applied and reasonable safety and reliability thresholds established by the utility.
- The contractor shall be adequately insured or shall establish an adequate performance bond for the make-ready the contractor will perform, including work the contractor will perform on facilities owned by existing attachers.

16. Whenever the Company discovers any unauthorized attachments of attachee, attachee shall pay to the Company an amount equal to twice the rental that would have been due had the installation been in place for the past five (5) years. The payment of these charges shall not relieve attachee of any responsibility, obligation imposed by law or assumed herein.
