RULES AND REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE SUPPLY OF GAS SERVICE

Gas Service Restrictions

These rules are established pursuant to an order of the Public Service Commission of Kentucky dated September 5, 1973, in Case Nos. 5829 and 5839 (hereinafter referred to as the "Order"), wherein it was found that "an adequate supply of natural gas to meet the demands of Louisville Gas and Electric Company's residential, commercial, and industrial customers is not assured and that restrictions upon service to new residential, commercial, and industrial customers and that restrictions upon providing increased requirements of existing commercial and industrial customers should be imposed." These rules shall remain in effect until revised or modified by further Commission order or by a lawfully effective filing by the Company.

1. After October 15, 1973, the Company will not initiate service to any new gas customer, location or service point, except as specifically provided for in these rules or in the Order. Exception will be made for any residential unit having the house line piping and gas service line ready for inspection on or before October 15, 1973, on a site contiguous to a gas main which the Company has installed, or is obligated to install, under the terms of the Order.

2. Service to a new commercial ^{or} industrial customer (including governmental agencies and institutions) shall be initiated only when such customer has met all of the following criteria and only to the extent of load estimates submitted:

- (a) On or before April 20, 1973, a bona fide application for gas service has been made to Company or a firm estimate of gas load has been submitted to Company in a bona fide effort to secure gas service, and
- (b) On or before May 14, 1973, there was in existence a binding contract for the installation of gas utilization equipment, and
- (c) On or before June 20, 1973, a foundation was completed under the main part of the structure wherein gas equipment is to be installed.

Where an apartment or condominium complex is in the process of construction as one unit, and criteria (a) and (b) above have been met for the entire unit, the completion on or before June 20, 1973, of a foundation for one or more principal buildings within such unit shall be deemed as satisfying criterion (c) for additional buildings within the unit, provided such additional buildings are completed and ready for service within two years from the date of the Order. For purposes of this paragraph the term "unit" is defined as a group of buildings covered under a single financing arrangement and a single heating contract, and for which the load requirements have been submitted to Company as a single project.

3. Nothing herein shall be construed to give Company the right to deny service to a certain 1750 residential customers and 216 commercial and industrial customers to which the Company was directed in the order to provide service; and service to such customers will be undertaken provided they are ready for the same within two years from the date of the Order.

4. No commercial or industrial customer (including governmental agencies and institutions) shall be eligible for any increase in connected load at any location above that which existed on October 15, 1973, nor for any expansion of gas requirements of any nature. Annual and seasonal volumes of gas usage by any such customer after the October 1973 billing period shall not exceed annual and seasonal volumes determined with reference to volumes taken over the 12 months prior to the November 1973 billing period; provided, however, that adjustment may be made for differences in weather, for force majeure conditions, for differences in the degree of curtailment of Company, and to annualize consumption in cases where service was initiated or the connected load increased in keeping with the Company's rules during said historical 12-month period. Nothing herein shall be construed to establish for any customer an entitlement to a volume of gas or to limit Company's right to curtail or interrupt gas service in accordance with its rate schedules and/or curtailment rules.

5. If a residence served with gas in accordance with the rules of the Company is vacated, gas service will be restored to such residence at such time as it is reoccupied.

6. If, on or before October 15, 1973, a mobile home on a permanent foundation becomes or became eligible for gas service in accordance with the Order and these rules, gas service will be supplied to a successor mobile home moved onto said permanent foundation; however, after October 15, 1973, Company will not supply gas service to a mobile home moved onto a site which had not become eligible for gas service by October 15, 1973.

7. If a non-residential structure that was previously heated with gas is vacated, gas service for heating purposes, in quantities corresponding to those previously used, will be restored to such structure provided it is reoccupied within 24 months from the time it was vacated. Otherwise, the entitlement of such structure to gas service will cease upon the expiration of such 24-month period.

8. If the use of gas for industrial processing or other industrial non-space heating purposes at any premise is discontinued by reason of cessation of operations, gas service for such purposes, in quantities no greater than those previously used, will be restored provided such usage is resumed by the same party or by a successor party within six months from the time of discontinuance. Otherwise, the entitlement of such premise to non-space heating gas will terminate at the end of such six-month period.

9. Entitlement to gas service under these rules shall not be transferrable from one location to another. Provided, however, that this rule shall not preclude the transfer of service from one location to another if the change in location is forced by action of a Governmental Agency, if the transferred load is substantially the same, and if the new location can be served from an existing gas main or from a gas main extension installed pursuant to Company's gas main extension rules.

10. Gas service will not be continued or provided for any outside ornamental flare fixtures. Gas service will not be provided for any outside gas light or commercial swimming pool installed or connected after the date of the Order.

11. If, on the basis of evidence available to it, the Company concludes that a customer has violated one or more of these rules, it will give notice in writing to the customer of the indicated violation(s) at the customer's address or at the location served, and will undertake to arrange a conference to effect a satisfactory resolution. If customer fails or refuses to appear at such a conference under reasonable conditions and within a reasonable time, Company shall have the right to suspend his gas service until corrective action has been taken. If, pursuant to such conference, one or more violations are found to have occurred, and if, at or after said conference, the customer fails or refuses to correct or discontinue said violation(s), such customer's gas service will be subject to termination upon 15 days' further written notice.

12. Applicants may make application for gas service to be initiated at such time as these restrictions are terminated or modified so as to enable Company to provide the service applied for. Company will file such applications and dispose of them in such manner as the Commission may approve or direct.

13. These rules are designed to promulgate as a part of Company's gas tariff the applicable provisions of the Order. In the event any conflict arises between these rules and the Order, the provisions of the Order shall prevail.
