2.8 RATE DETERMINATION

The rate for a Casual Calling/Initial Subscription Services call is determined by factors such as:

The distance between the rate centers of the originating (calling) station and the terminating (called) station; and, under certain conditions the distance between the V&H coordinates of an AT&T Central Office and the rate center of a station or the V&H coordinate of a AT&T Central Office,

The time of day and the day of week,

The duration of the call.

The specific factors which apply to a given Casual Calling/Initial Subscription Services call and their application are listed in the rate section applicable to that type of call. The regulations pertaining to those factors are as follows:

2. GENERAL REGULATIONS

2.8.1 Time of Day and Day of Week

The rate charged for a Casual Calling/Initial Subscription Services call is determined in part by the day of the week and the time of day at the originating (calling) station or at the AT&T Central Office associated with the originating (calling) station using special access. The rate charged for AT&T MEGACOM 800 is determined in part by the time of day and day of the week the AT&T Central Office associated with the terminating (called) station. Different rates may be applicable to a call at different times of the day and on certain days of the week as specified in the appropriate rate section for that call.

2.8.2 Determining the Chargeable Time of a Call

The chargeable time for a Casual Calling/Initial Subscription Services call is determined by the duration of the call. Chargeable time includes the initial period plus the additional time involved, if any, and is determined as follows:

- A. On all calls, chargeable time begins when completed connection is established between the calling station and the called station.
- B. Chargeable time ends when the calling station "hangs up". If the called station "hangs up" but the calling station does not, chargeable time ends when the connection is released either by automatic timing equipment in the telecommunications network or by the Company operator.
- C. When Casual Calling/Initial Subscription Services is directly connected to a Customer-provided communications system at a Customer's or User's premises, chargeable time begins when a Casual Calling/Initial Subscription Services call terminates in, or passes through, the first Customer Equipment on that Customer-provided communications system. It is the Customer's responsibility to furnish appropriate answer supervision to the point of interface with the Casual Calling/Initial Subscription Services so that chargeable time may begin.

2.8.3 Determining the Applicable Rate in Effect

- A. Except for Casual Calling/Initial Subscription Services calls that use a special access line, when the call is established in one rate period and ends in another rate period, the rate in effect at the calling station for each rate period applies to the call occurring within that rate period. When a calling station on a Custom Network service uses a special access line, the rate in effect at the AT&T Central Office for each rate period applies to the portion of the call occurring within that rate period. When a unit of time is split between two rate periods, the rate applicable to that unit of time is based on the rate period in which it began.
- B. Chargeable time for a rate period (e.g., 8 AM - 5 PM) begins with the first stated hour (e.g., 8 AM) and continues to, but does not include, the second stated hour (e.g., 5 PM).

2.8.4 Use of Casual Calling/Initial Subscription Services for Resale or Shared Use

When Casual Calling/Initial Subscription Services are resold or shared, the Customer may advise its User that a portion of the Customer's service is provided by this Company.
